Subject: Microsoft Settlement

To whom it may concern,

As a tech-savvy voter with an elementary understanding of logic I am opposed to the settlement offer proposed by the USDOJ. Allowing Microsoft multiple loopholes for which they can keep middleware applications in their operating systems is not strict enough for a convicted monopolist who has been found to be involved in many unfair and illegal business practices. Microsoft uses their operating system to unfairly gain market access in unrelated or partially related products and services. To exploit one's market position to increase sales is smart business, to exploit one's market position to deny other companies access is illegal and morally repugnant.

This settlement offer is not consistent with the findings of the court or the facts at hand. It is a transparently political scheme and should be investigated as such.

I hope you loose a lot of sleep over this matter,

-Daniel
